Getting Here is Easy!

The unspoiled natural playground of Flaming Gorge Country straddles Wyoming and Utah and lies halfway between Yellowstone and Arches National Parks. It’s a welcomed respite from the crowded nearby national parks but close enough to qualify as the perfect pit stop on a national park road trip.

The 91-mile Lake Flaming Gorge and the famed Green River offer year-round recreational opportunities—either on the water or along the shoreline. These alluring waters are surrounded by National Forest and the famous high desert country of Southwestern Wyoming. For the adventure-lover, Flaming Gorge Country has countless ways to explore with biking, hiking, camping, rafting and boating as just some of the ways to get out into nature with your loved ones. For those who prefer to take it easy, just sit back and soak up the amazing scenery that includes abundant wildlife, stunning mountain vistas, desert landscapes, unique rock formations and more.

Did you know that Flaming Gorge is the most scenic trophy trout destination in the country? With 11 state fishing records in the lake and some 15,000 trout per river mile, we’d argue that it’s diversity makes it America’s Best Fishery.

So what are you waiting for? The memories are here for the making. Welcome to Flaming Gorge Country!
Flaming Gorge Country is one of the premier fishing destinations in the United States. We not only have one of the most diverse fisheries, but also the area has been dubbed the most scenic trophy trout destination in the world. There are hundreds of places to fish within an hour drive of Lake Flaming Gorge. Bringing your little one out for her first time fishing? Jonesing for a new spot to cast your line for the annual guy’s trip? Want to escape the craziness of your everyday life and sink into the solitude of fly fishing? No matter your desire, Flaming Gorge Country can grant your fish wish!

FAMILY FISHING
Fishing with the family is not only a highly rewarding activity, it’s also one of the most inexpensive ways to spend quality time doing something fun in nature. The basic starter gear will cost less than $50, but that investment will help you create priceless memories for years to come! Here are a few tips to get you started if you are new to the sport.

GEAR UP
You need a spinning rod with line, needle-nose pliers (for safely releasing all those fish you’ll catch!) and lures or bait gear.

LIVE BAIT OR LURE?
Bait gear includes your bait of choice (like worms), hooks, a little weight and a bobber. This is by far the most popular method of fishing, especially if you plan to keep your catch. But it can get a little messy since you have to constantly re-bait the hook. Lures are easily attached and much gentler on fish you intend to release. Lures come in a rainbow of colors and sizes. One of our local tackle dealers will clue you in on which lures are best for the waters you are fishing.

ENJOY FREE FISHING
Both Utah and Wyoming offer a free fishing day every year, typically in early June. Fish stocking is timed for these days, so it’s a great opportunity to get out on new waters. Check state fishing websites for special family programs at various locations.

FOLLOW THE RULES
Young children in either state fish for free. In Utah, kids under 12 don’t need a fishing license. Adults can get a three-day, seven-day or annual permit online at www.wildlife.utah.gov. To fish across state lines on the Flaming Gorge Reservoir, you must have a valid fishing license from one state and a reciprocal fishing permit ($10) from the other state. In Wyoming, you can get a one-day or annual fishing license online at www.wgfd.wyo.gov/apply-or-buy. Kids who are residents of Wyoming and under the age of 14 do not need a license. Nonresident youth (under 14) do not need a license if accompanied by an adult possessing a valid Wyoming fishing license.

SELECT YOUR SPOT
We have some perfect family-friendly fishing spots, including The Moose Ponds, The Flaming Gorge Dam Fishing Pier, the free Kids Fishing Hole at Red Canyon Lodge and Little Hole on the Green River.
FISHING LAKE FLAMING GORGE
With 11 state fishing records and two former world records, it’s no wonder that Flaming Gorge Reservoir is renowned as a trophy fishery. The 91-mile-long lake straddles Wyoming and Utah and offers boating services at three marinas – Buckboard, Lucerne and Cedar Springs. The most popular game fish in the Gorge are the trophy lake (mackinaw) trout, kokanee salmon and smallmouth bass.

WHERE ARE THE FISH?
When fishing the surface down to 50 feet, you will likely catch rainbows, browns, tiger and smaller lake trout. Kokanee salmon will follow the thermocline, staying shallow in the winter and spring and going deeper as the summer months warm the water. The larger lake trout will generally stay in deeper water (70-120 feet), but they will feed in the shallower water especially in the early spring. The bass in Lake Flaming Gorge are very active in the summer months when the water has warmed a bit. You can find them on most shallow rocky points, humps and ridges throughout the reservoir.

LAKE FISHING TECHNIQUES
Trolling Flaming Gorge is a very popular technique, allowing anglers to cover large portions of an area while targeting multiple species. Some different trolling techniques used on the Gorge include: long lining, dipsy divers, weighted line and downriggers.

Vertical jigging is another technique used to target some of the game fish in the reservoir, especially the kokanee and mackinaw. The theory is to sit on top of the areas where the fish tend to be, using an electric trolling motor or anchor system, while bouncing your favorite jig – baited or not – in front of their faces.

“There is only one place in Utah to hook a true monster: Flaming Gorge Reservoir” – KSL.com

A very effective way to catch fish on Lake Flaming Gorge – whether by boat or from shore – is casting and retrieving. There are thousands of different lures and jigs that work for this method. Fly fishing streamers can even be effective.

Bait fishing, whether with a bobber or weighted, is another common technique. Night crawlers and power bait are both recommended.
FISHING THE GREEN RIVER

The Green River, as it reemerges from Flaming Gorge Dam, has become a legendary tailwater fishery. The water released from the dam is regulated to maintain an optimum temperature and flow that has created a world-famous blue ribbon trout fishery. The Green River’s clear, emerald waters support a large population of trout, with rainbows being more common just below the dam and browns dominating downstream.

Annual surveys have revealed an incredible trout population. Most states boast that their blue ribbon streams have 5,000-7,000 fish per mile. Here, some stretches of the Green carry as many as 15,000 fish per mile!

Fishing is restricted to artificial flies or lures and catch-and-release is highly encouraged. Fly tackle is most commonly used, but spinners, jigs and Rapalas are also effective on these waters. Additionally, insect hatches are prolific. Scuds are a primary food source and are effective throughout the year. Midges work on and below the surface during the winter and early spring. Blue-winged olives hatch in incredible numbers in the spring. Big cicadas produce exciting fishing during the early summer. Ants, hoppers and many dry fly patterns work well through the summer and early fall. More information on river hatches may be found by contacting the local fishing guides and outfitters. Check out the listings on Page 30 for contact information.

The Green flows through a scenic, steep-walled canyon. The rugged terrain allows access in only three areas: just below the dam, Little Hole and Browns Park. You can fish/hike your way up or downstream on well-used trails or float the river in various fishing watercraft.

HIGH-COUNTRY FISHING

If you really want to get away from it all, the famous High Uinta Wilderness is the place to be. Here, there are over 600 hundred natural mountain lakes and thousands of streams that are packed full of brookies, cutthroat, rainbows and – if you search hard enough – grayling.

Some of the more popular and easily accessible lakes in our area include Matt Warner Reservoir, Browne Lake, Sheep Creek Lake, Long Park Reservoir and Spirit Lake, just to name a few. But if you are more adventurous and like to get out and hike, check out Tamarack Lake, Daggett Lake, Fish Lake or Island Lake.

The Flaming Gorge high country is a very special place that has remained naturally wild. So while you’re out and about, keep your eyes peeled for the huge moose population that calls this high country home. Most basins contain multiple lakes so it’s easy to have one all to yourself, even on the busiest days of summer.

GET OUT ON THE ICE

A very popular winter activity is ice fishing. In cold-weather months, the larger lake trout are in the deeper water and can be caught using vertical jigging techniques. The smaller trout and kokanee are in shallower water, where it’s best to use smaller jigs and baits. It is becoming very popular to fish for Burbot – the invasive species in the Gorge – through the ice at night. During our multiple Burbot winter fishing tournaments, the scattered headlamps and lanterns of hardy nighttime fishermen are visible across the vast frozen lake at many access points. Check out www.burbotbash.com to get in on some of the action.

LOOK FOR LUNKERS IN REMOTE WATERS

Southwestern Wyoming also provides some great opportunities for the adventurous angler. Seedskadee National Wildlife Refuge protects a mosaic of riparian, wetland and upland shrub habitats along 36 miles of the upper Green River. The refuge takes its name from the Shoshoni word for the Green River: Seeds-kee-dee-Agie, meaning “river of the sage chicken.” While the numbers of fish at Seedskadee may be less than in the Green River below Flaming Gorge Dam, the size of the fish is incredible. Huge trout await those willing to invest time on these waters!
The Green River boasts an average fish size of 15" or better.

The Green River, as it re-emerges from Flaming Gorge Dam, is one of the finest flyfishing tailwaters in the nation with an incredible trout population of up to 15,000 fish per mile.

Lake Flaming Gorge has set a WORLD RECORD TWICE for BROWN TROUT.
GET OUT ON THE WATER
The Ultimate Destination for water-loving enthusiasts.

When people think of Flaming Gorge, the wildly colorful cliffs that tower over the lake often come to mind. Getting out on the water is the best way to appreciate the sheer beauty of these 1,000-foot walls. And don’t miss out on the awe-inspiring rock chimney formations in the northern part of the lake. A memorable perk of Flaming Gorge Reservoir is the absence of over-congestion. Not surprising when you consider it stretches 91 miles in length and has some 375 miles of spacious shoreline for hiking, camping and exploring.

BOAT CAMPING
With so many miles of shoreline, it's easy to find a quiet, secluded cove to spend the night. Better yet, boat-only campgrounds offer docking, restroom facilities, picnic tables and designated fire pits in areas reachable only by water.

WILDLIFE WATCHING
An abundance of creatures call the Flaming Gorge area home and the reservoir is no exception. Stand in awe as big horn sheep scale the steep walls of the canyon while Osprey hover above in search of good fishing.

FISHING
Flaming Gorge is legendary big fish territory and is well known as the best trophy lake trout fishery in the lower 48. It holds eleven state records, including Lake Trout, Brown Trout, Kokanee Salmon and Smallmouth Bass. If you really want to hone in on the secret spots, book a guided fishing trip and learn the ropes from a pro. Shore fishing is a great way to keep the kids entertained for the day without a boat.

WATER SKIING AND WAKEBOARDING
There is a surprisingly low amount of boat traffic in comparison to neighboring lakes such as Powell. With just a little roaming, you can find smooth as glass waters that are ideal for water skiing and wakeboarding.

For more detailed information about the lake, check out our area visitor centers and marinas. Cedar Springs Marina, Lucerne Valley Marina and Buckboard Marina all provide gas sales, pump-out facilities, daily boat rentals, guided fishing trips and lake tours.

Whatever draws you to the waters of Flaming Gorge, it is undeniable that the memories made will last a lifetime. The magical surroundings paint the perfect backdrop for an unforgettable vacation.
Traversing the waters of Flaming Gorge is a favorite family adventure that will reel in not only fish, but also lasting memories. We offer a range of paddling options, including serene high mountain lakes, routes beneath the towering walls of the lake and multiple stretches of the Green River.

Floating the Green River has become a favorite family activity for people of all ages. The upper section is 7 miles long and stretches from Flaming Gorge Dam to Little Hole. The occasional mild whitewater allows for easy-going scenic raft trips that can be guided or taken on your own. Several businesses in the vicinity of Dutch John rent rafts, inflatable kayaks and dory boats.

Whitewater rafting below Browns Park is a whole new adventure. Proceeding downriver through the towering Gates of Lodore remains one of the West’s great whitewater adventures. The fact that explorer Major John Wesley Powell named one of the rapids “Disaster Falls” gives one a sense of how well early voyagers fared on this particular stretch. A number of whitewater rafting outfitters offer one-day and multi-day trips through this rugged and remote area.

Kayaking & Stand-Up Paddle Boarding (SUP) are two of the fastest growing forms of outdoor recreation in the country. These watersports are not only easy to learn, but they also provide a workout that is both serene and exhilarating. Check out some new paddling trails on our website. Most marinas and lodges offer SUP and kayak rentals.

The Whitewater Park & Tubing Channel at Expedition Island in the town of Green River is the only one of its kind west of the Mississippi River. The manmade channel features 4-foot-deep pools suitable for swimming and wading while up to four-foot drops provide excitement for tubers, canoers and kayakers. Advanced kayakers enjoy taking on the southern channel where Castle Falls churns. For longer floats, drop a raft, kayak or canoe in at Jamestown just upstream from downtown and meander down to the park.

"THE SEVEN-MILE STRETCH OF STREAM FROM FLAMING GORGE DAM TO LITTLE HOLE... ALWAYS GIVES UP A MEMORABLE WILDLIFE EXPERIENCE." STEAMBOAT TODAY
Virtually every road driven around Flaming Gorge is a designated national or state scenic byway or back way! Families create special memories behind the windshield of a car, so plan to spend some time enjoying the splendor of the Gorge on one of these selected roadway adventures. More routes are discussed in detail at www.FlamingGorgeCountry.com.
Flaming Gorge Scenic Byway

This scenic drive explores all of Flaming Gorge Country, traversing a wide variety of landscapes along the way, from the high desert plains of Wyoming to upper elevations of the High Uinta Mountains. It encircles the 91-mile-long Lake Flaming Gorge, crosses forests and the vast canyons carved by the Green River and travels down through geologic layers of time on the way to the Uintah Basin of Utah. It is a journey that offers a wealth of world-class recreation, abundant wildlife, storied history and scenic splendor. Area services along the route provide recreational activities, visitor information, lodging and dining in many beautiful locations.

Directions:
From Green River, WY take WY Hwy 530 south along the west side of Lake Flaming Gorge.
From Rock Springs, WY take US Hwy 191 south along the east side of Lake Flaming Gorge.
From Vernal, Utah take US 191 north.

Distance: Just over 200 miles, plan multiple days to truly experience all the area has to offer.

Driving Time: 5 hours, paved road, passable by any vehicle.
Open year-round.

Pilot Butte Wild Horse Scenic Loop

The wild horses of Sweetwater County in southwest Wyoming have been a memorable part of the area for hundreds of years. This scenic loop is an unforgettable backcountry drive. These cherished roaming horses are living examples of a wide-open landscape and untamed frontier spirit that is still alive and well in Sweetwater County. Beautiful vistas – and photo opportunities – abound atop the rugged landscape where approximately 2,500 horses and other critters play, including desert elk, rabbits, coyotes, hawks and eagles. You can begin this tour in either Green River or Rock Springs. Visit www.TourWyoming.com for a map of the route.

Directions:
From Rock Springs, take I-80 to the Elk Street exit (104) and go north. Travel 14 miles and go left on CR 4-14 (Fourteen Mile Road). Go 2.5 miles and take a left on CR-53. Follow CR-53 21.5 miles to Green River. To access the route from Green River, exit I-80 at Flaming Gorge Way and turn on Wild Horse Canyon Road.

Distance: 23-mile loop
Driving Time: 1-2 hours, recommended for 4-wheel-drive vehicles, best made in dry weather conditions. High Clearance Vehicles are strongly recommended.

Sheep Creek Geologic Loop

This scenic backway winds through the dramatic rock formations of the Sheep Creek Geological Area. But stunning scenery isn’t the only reason to keep a look out on this backway. Expect to catch a glimpse or two of Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep as you wind through Sheep Creek’s awe-inspiring rock spires. This relatively small area is also home to an impressive diversity of birds and other wildlife. Test your geological eye by attempting to spot the Uinta Fault, which runs for more than 100 miles along the north slope of the Uinta Mountains. It is clearly visible in the extremely twisted rock layers along the upper part of the loop.

Directions:
Beginning 15 miles west of U.S. Highway 191/Utah Highway 44 intersection. It returns to Utah Highway 44, 5 miles south of Manila.

Distance: Thirteen mile loop
Driving Time: 1 hour (with stops for viewing), mostly paved road with short graveled section, passable by any vehicle. Open spring, summer and fall.
LOVE THE LAKE
Lake Flaming Gorge is a veritable water playground. Boating, fishing, swimming, tubing and waterskiing are a few of the best ways to enjoy the water here. Bring your own watercraft or choose from a variety of boat rental options at lake marinas.

RIDE THE RAPIDS
There’s nothing quite like the thrill of rafting with your family down the highly scenic Green River. This do-it-yourself adventure from Flaming Gorge Dam down to Little Hole is the local’s favorite family activity. The mild rapids along the way add to the fun. Raft rentals are easily available from several local outfitters.

EXPLORE EXPEDITION ISLAND
At Expedition Island Park in Green River, the Whitewater Park and Tubing Channel provides river users and swimmers a ton of fun experiences. In the north river channel – right next to the outdoor splash park – you can float the 1,200-foot-long lazy river/tubing channel, complete with easy drops and large wading pools. For a bigger adventure, take on the state-of-the-art whitewater play features in the main channel.

CAMPING IS COOL
For something your kids will think is really awesome, camp along the deserted stretches of the lake’s 375-mile shoreline or try out one of over 600 campsites in the surrounding National Forest. Nothing beats an evening campfire with your loved ones under the clear starry skies of the Gorge.
EXPLORE FOR EXCITEMENT
Take a wildlife scavenger hunt on a hike along Lake Flaming Gorge or on one of the many forested trails in the area. See if your kids can identify the critters that call Flaming Gorge Country home, including marmots, pronghorn antelope and bighorn sheep. And don’t forget the free tours of Flaming Gorge Dam where your little ones can feed the big fish at the end.

DIG THE DINOS
Kids who love dinosaurs won’t want to miss the Western Wyoming Community College (WWCC) Natural History Museum in Rock Springs or the famous Wall Of Bones at Dinosaur National Monument outside of Vernal. For a change of pace, spend the day in either town enjoying a wide variety of family activities.

RIDE ‘EM COWBOY!
You can get a hearty dose of rodeo in Flaming Gorge Country where cowboy culture is alive and well. From saddle bronc to barrel racing and everything in between, Flaming Gorge has a number of rodeo competitions throughout the year that will have your children squealing “yeehaw!” in no time.
Recreation Use Pass Required: Use of some facilities in the Flaming Gorge National Recreation Area requires a daily Use Pass for your vehicle.
Flaming Gorge Country has hundreds of miles of trails that traverse river, desert and high alpine landscapes. Whether you choose to make memories by lacing up a pair of hiking boots, strapping on a set of cross-country skis or tackling the trails on two wheels, Flaming Gorge has a route with your name written all over it!

Dinosaurs once ruled this land.

This is the only place in the world where you can view and even touch over 1,500 bones partially exposed in their final resting place and left on display to awe modern day visitors at the newly reopened Quarry and Visitor Center in Dinosaur National Monument. Known as the most productive Jurassic Period dinosaur quarry in the world, many of the finest museums in the country display dinosaur skeletons excavated from here. We think that’s pretty cool!

In nearby Vernal, kids can spot large dinosaurs all over town. From the “Pink” dinosaur on the east end to the “T-Rex” who dresses up for each holiday on the west end. You will feel like you have stepped into a real life Jurassic Park. In fact, the Utah State Fieldhouse Museum is surrounded by them. Make sure to plan a stop at the Dinosaur Gardens.

Dinosaurs are the stars of the show, but not all there is to do and see in the area. Petroglyphs are the rock stars of Dinosaurland, Cowboys and Western Heritage are the corner stones, and Hiking, Biking, Rafting, Fishing, and ATVing are the future of Dinosaurland.

So welcome, stay awhile, enjoy the beauty and adventure that is Dinosaurland Vernal, Utah!

Dinosaurs once ruled this land.

THE ADVENTURE
In nearby Vernal, kids can spot large dinosaurs all over town. From the "Pink" dinosaur on the east end to the "T-Rex" who dresses up for each holiday on the west end. You will feel like you have stepped into a real life Jurassic Park. In fact, the Utah State Fieldhouse Museum is surrounded by them. Make sure to plan a stop at the Dinosaur Gardens.

Dinosaurs are the stars of the show, but not all there is to do and see in the area. Petroglyphs are the rock stars of Dinosaurland, Cowboys and Western Heritage are the corner stones, and Hiking, Biking, Rafting, Fishing, and ATVing are the future of Dinosaurland.

So welcome, stay awhile, enjoy the beauty and adventure that is Dinosaurland Vernal, Utah!

This is the only place in the world where you can view and even touch over 1,500 bones partially exposed in their final resting place and left on display to awe modern day visitors at the newly reopened Quarry and Visitor Center in Dinosaur National Monument.

Known as the most productive Jurassic Period dinosaur quarry in the world, many of the finest museums in the country display dinosaur skeletons excavated from here. We think that's pretty cool!

Red Fleet & Steinaker State Park
Home to great fishing, water sports, campgrounds, amazing scenery, and Vernal’s Beach. Steinaker is home to rainbow trout and largemouth bass. Enjoy sandy beaches, swimming, boating, and camping under the stars of Dinosaurland. Red Fleet earned its name because of its red sandstone formations, which looks like a fleet of ships floating in and around the reservoir. This is a popular spot for water sport enthusiasts, anglers, and those looking for a cool spot to break from the summer sun! Red Fleets is also home to 200-million year old dinosaur tracks. There are over 200 known tracks in the park. A 2.5 mile hike round-trip leads to the best viewing of the tracks.

Take a Hike, Ride a Bike, or Drive an ATV
Dinosaurland is home to dozens of hiking trails, world class bike paths, and an off-road heaven for ATV’s. Hiking in Dinosaur National Monument, Jones Hole, and McConkie Ranch offers hikers beautiful scenery, amazing views of petroglyphs, and areas not seen by those traveling by car.

Ride your bike where giants once roamed. Vernal is home to miles of trails and slick rock. Miles and miles of trails await the ATV and OHV enthusiasts across the Uintah Basin. Extreme adventures or easy scenic drives can be found along the trails in Dinosaurland.

Snowshoeing and Cross-Country Skiing are serene ways to get intimate views of our abundant winter wildlife. Many unplowed roads turn into wonderful winter trails where you can catch your breath in quiet snowdrifts and lose it again at the edge of a canyon overlook.

Snowmobiling is a thrilling way to experience the winter beauty of Flaming Gorge. The stunning landscape climbs to over 11,000 feet in elevation along 250 miles of groomed and ungroomed trails, offering a unique challenge for every skill level. Mountain passes, alpine meadows and backcountry trails comprise an undiscovered winter wonderland waiting to be explored.

Fishing is a year-round passion in Flaming Gorge and the lake is a favorite spot for ice fishing. The annual Burbot Bash ice fishing tournament is a family-friendly contest with serious prize money. The blue-ribbon waters of the Green River are fishable every day of the year and the local secret is that dry-fly fishing can be pretty hot during many winter days (shh, don’t tell!).

Winter events are cool, but they keep visitors warm throughout Flaming Gorge Country. All of our gateway towns hold festivals, tree lighting ceremonies and parades during the holiday season. From the Crystal Classic in Green River that features ice carving and a s’mores station to winter theatre and multiple hockey tournaments, there’s never a dull moment up in Wyoming’s Sweetwater County.

Yurt and Guard Station Rentals are one-of-a-kind winter lodging experiences. Modern yurts – warm and roomy cylindrical tents – and rustic guard stations are available for rent throughout Flaming Gorge Country. Often quite far removed from any development, they allow for intimate interaction with the natural surroundings. Arriving by snowmobile or cross-country skis adds an extra fun dimension to an overnight adventure. Book your Yurt or Guard Station at Recreation.gov.

What are you waiting for? The winter memories are prime for the picking in Flaming Gorge Country! For trail maps, gear rentals and more information on winter activities, check out our area visitor centers and download a free copy of our Winter Recreation Guide at FlamingGorgeCountry.com.
